

Short biography, Øivind Farnen

Øivind Farnen has his education from Barratt Due Institute of Music. He has among others won Trofée Mondial de l'accordéon (the accordion world championship), made concerts throughout the world, collaborated with musicians like Elise Båtnes and Ole Edvard Antonsen, and been a featured soloist with a number of symphony orchestras. He has made numerous CD productions in different genres, and has been nominated to the Norwegian Grammy Awards ("Spellemannprisen") in both folk music with the band Flukt (2008) and in the category for contemporary music (2010) with the solo production "Norwegian Safari".

More information: www.farnen.net